ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)

REMARKS

1. At a meeting of the central executive board of the Gesellschaft fuer Sport und Technik (Athletic and Technical Association) (GST), departmental chief Kuehne (fnu) complained that the Bezirk and Kreis headquarters of the organization very often delegated candidates to the GST schools who were unqualified for the type of training intended. This applied particularly to the central glider school at Laucha-Bornsdorf.

2. the following functionaries of the central executive board of the GST had been trained in the USSR:

Berthold (fnu)	1st secretary
Creutzburg (fnu)	2d secretary
Gruuk (fnu)	3d secretary
Schreiber (fnu)	in charge of marine training
Jutzi (fnu)	in charge of field training and training in marksmanship

Of the functionaries mentioned, Berthold, allegedly, has Soviet citizenship. The GST sent a liaison officer to the branch of DOSAAF in Karlshorst.

3. In mid-September, a conference was held at the central headquarters of the GST in Halle. At this conference, Creutzburg, the 2d secretary of the organization stated that the East German Council of Ministers had assigned the GST new missions. In the future, the organization was not only to conduct pre-military training but also political indoctrination in co-operation with the GSD, the FDGB and the FDJ. Creutzburg stated that it had become necessary to carry out these new missions because the National Front had failed in this field. An appeal was to be made in particular to younger classes. Creutzburg also mentioned that a new cadre department was to be established with the central headquarters of the GST.

4. new secretaries attached to the central headquarters of the GST included Fliegau (fnu), who was to be in charge of gliding activities and Eichler (fnu), who was to take care of field training, training in marksmanship, training of dogs, and riding. The two secretaries have undergone training with DOSAAF. Herbert Fromer, a former master sergeant of the German Air Force, was

Recruiting activities for the GST which had been suspended after 17 June, have been resumed. Great stress is being laid on the training in marksmanship. However, field training and motor sport were also promoted. After acquiring the driver's permit for motorcycles, GST members were trained on trucks.²

11. On 5 September, there was a conference of GST functionaries at the Kreis secretariat in Doebein. The functionaries were directed to exclude all GST members who did not turn up regularly for training or failed to pay their dues. The functionaries were furthermore ordered to appeal to all GST members to volunteer as VP auxiliaries after becoming 18 years old. VP auxiliaries are trained by police officers twice a month.
12. In early September, the GST organization in Rosswein had 520 and that in Leisnig 120 members. On 1 October, there was a GST conference in Doebein at which the chiefs of GST training units were ordered to increase their recruiting efforts for the organization. All juveniles upward of 14 years of age were to become members of the organization.
- 25X1 13. [redacted] in Leisnig [redacted] a marksmanship badge has been issued to GST members since September. Marksmanship competitions are to be held with the aim of determining the best marksmen who were to be given additional training with precision rifles and small-bore pistols. Marksmanship competitions were scheduled to be held in Doebein on 17 October.
- 25X1 14. On 5 October, a meeting of the members of the GST organization at the IFA Tractor Plant in Brandenburg was held. At this meeting it was stated that the marksmanship club of the organization would resume its activity after 20 October.
- 25X1 15. On 7 October, it was stated at a conference held by the SED cell of Prime Minister Grotewohl's secretariat that the GST would have to intensify its activities.
- 25X1 16. [redacted] in Frankfurt/Oder [redacted] the GST was buying replacement parts for motorcycles.
- 25X1 17. On 16 and 17 October, there was an exhibition at the Siemens-Plania Works on Herzberg Strasse in Lichtenberg. Wiring diagrams besides radio transmitters and receivers as used for amateur radio operations of the GST were on display. The functioning of radio transmitters and receivers, most of which were former German Army equipment, was shown. Various types of antennas were also explained. The chief designer of the high-frequency engineering works on Ostend Strasse appealed to the visitors of the exhibition to join the organization of radio amateurs.²
- 25X1 1. [redacted] Comment. Very probably all directives for the organization and training of the GST are issued by DOSAAF which is believed to exercise central control over the GST.
- 25X1 2. [redacted] Comment. The report indicates that the GST resumed its pre-military training, which had been temporarily suspended in June and July 1953. The issuance of uniforms to members of the GST underlines the military character of this organization.
